Projects

LinkedCare

- LinkedCare transforms doctors' practices by making them more agile, allowing them to attend to more patients and extend their geographical reach through fully integrated video consultations.

Blupack

- BluPack is an online pharmacy that dispenses medicines by the mix of dosages that must be consumed at prescribed times. BluPack also cares for the sick by helping family and caregivers manage timely medication without errors.

Aitek

- AITEK is the leading value-added IT distributor in Africa. Founded in 2004, its mission is to have a positive impact on our continent by helping its partners build winning businesses. Present in most of the targeted countries in Africa, AITEK's unique local approach has helped build a strong brand with both resellers and end users.

E-prescription

- I contributed to the development and maintenance of the E-prescription system, a healthcare solution that allows doctors to efficiently manage and track patient records. I collaborated with healthcare professionals to create user-friendly interfaces for seamless data entry and retrieval, ensuring accuracy and security in patient care documentation. Additionally, I optimized system performance to guarantee reliable and secure access to sensitive patient information within the healthcare environment
